When you come to Hua-Hin, we suggest you taste the following dishes.
FRESH SEAFOOD You can order a little spicy, medium or too spicy. It made for cooking many style as Grilled, Baked, Steamed, Roasted, Fried or Deep fried. Thai food is filled with spices, herbs, fruits & vegetables such as chilli, garlic, lemon grass, ginger and coconut. These ingredient & others like them are more than just good taste, and traditional Thai cooking has always involved more practical knowledge of HEALTHFUL FOODS than either decoration or flavor.

COCONUT is also a delicious, versatile fruit. Coconut milk provides good nutrition through its rich vitamin content. Its sweet flavour is often used in Thai cooking to off-set the tang felt from the spices. Coconuts have benefited the economy of both family and country. Thailand is one of the top world producers in terms of both quality and quantity of coconuts.

HUA HIN & CHA-AM

Less than four hours by road or rail from Bangkok, Hua Hin with its 3 kms. long white sand beach and small fishing village has long had an air of exclusivity thanks to favouritism by Thai royalty and Bangkok's wealthy elite. The area retains more of a Thai family ambience than other touristy destinations. The weekend getaway of Cha-am is a lovely long stretch of beach that has become popular with youthful groups of Bangkokians. Around 40 kms. from Petchaburi, the resort is extremely peaceful during weekdays, with plenty of delicious seafood to choose from.

From P.1 Amana Spa

The "Luk Prakob" has been used for relief of pain and inflammation. Following with oil massage, a selection of therapeutic herbs including prai, ginger and turmeric wrapped in a muslin compress, steamed and then applied to the body. As the pores open and allow the herbs to take effect, ailments such as stiff, sore or pulled muscles and ligaments, back pain, migraines, stress and an anxiety are almost instantly relieved. The warm aromatic oil apply on your entire body, to leave you feeling very relaxing.
